

CLC NEWS

Hurricane and Volcano Pose Dangerous Threat to Island

It has just been reported that the emergency response teams' actions to save the island of Montserrat have been successful. 8000 people have been saved by all the different teams working together and communicating their information. Although the capital Plymouth was completely destroyed, all of the buses with the evacuated people had left 10 minutes beforehand. The hurricane missed the island and the operation was a great success.

Although the capital Plymouth was completely destroyed, all of the buses with the evacuated people had left 10 minutes beforehand. The hurricane missed the island and the operation was a great success.

